

HALIFAX MAN IS SHOWING MUMMY FOUND IN CHILE

Probably Remains of an Inca Boy of Two Thousand Years Ago.

WAS FOUND IN CUT ON NEW RAILROAD

Preservation Due to Fact that It Was Imbedded in Salt-petre.

New York, Dec. 15.—C. Taylor, an involuntary exhibitor in his room at the Hotel New York, who has been imbedded in salt-petre for two thousand years, was found in a cut on a new railroad in Chile.

The maintenance and service of the railroad, which had been started in 1868 and was to be completed in 1872, was to be undertaken by the Chilean government. The mummy was found in the cutting of a railroad cut which arrived here with it on a United Fruit steamer Thursday. He will loan it for exhibition at the Provincial museum in Santiago.

"When I went to Chile two years ago" said Mr. Taylor, "as the mechanical superintendent for Gibb and company, who were constructing the longitudinal railroad from the coast of Callao and south to Chile, most of our work was on the cutting of the table lands 14,000 feet above the sea, across which the Incas had a road when they went down from Peru. There were no railroads in Chile about 2,600 years ago. There are clear traces of this old road today, and along either side of it we found hundreds of Inca skeletons."

"The only mummy I found in Chile, however, I attribute its preservation to the fact that it was imbedded in salt-petre, while the skeletons were all lying loose on the ground. The mummy digging in the salt-petre, however, was cut, and was found down about 14 feet when they unearthed it. This spot was in the heart of the interior 200 miles away from the ocean and far from any modern or known ancient city."

Mr. Taylor then exhibited the mummy. The figure is in a squatting position with hands clasped, and is about one and a half feet in height. According to the superintendent of the museum in Antofagasta, Chile, whom Mr. Taylor saw, the mummy possessed a lost art of reducing the size of the body after death, so that it could be easily buried in constructing the railroad, said Mr. Taylor, who was about 18 inches in height and seemed to bear out this theory. The mummy, however, was buried in the earth in a box, 14 years old, Mr. Taylor said. It is in a state of excellent preservation and the black hair on the head is still hard and soft. The skin is brown and hard and soft.

According to the museum superintendent the Incas who were a superior people in their time, built the roads across the desert and used salt-petre to make them a foot thick. THE TRADE WHICH FOLLOWS
THE CUSTOMERS.

Italy, which, in 1876, had an emigration of less than 100,000 a year, had last year an emigration of nearly eight hundred thousand. Concurrently with this tremendous increase in the migration of Italians, the enormous majority of whom have come to America, Italy's foreign trade has increased faster than that of any other country in Europe, until now Italy is doing an import and export business of not less than one thousand two hundred million dollars a year, practically all of which has been established as a consequence of the settlement of Italians in other countries. The percentages of increases in this trade correspond with remarkable consistency with the immigration figures, United States, which gets most of the Italian immigrants, showing the largest trade increase with Italy, and the South American republics, which show the next greatest absorption of Italians, showing the next greatest. The experience of the Italians is showing that those imperialists who talk so much about trade following the flag are very superficial observers. It is not the flag that the trade follows, but the customers. People buy the things they are accustomed to; it is not necessary to own a country in order to trade with it.

Just so, Canada can sell all the goods she wants to in United States if the Canadian government will but take advantage of the opportunity. It is not necessary to send millions of Canadians to United States in order to induce a demand for Canadian goods, for the very obvious reason that the consumers of United States are already using in immense quantities the very class of goods which Canada has to sell. The habit of using the goods—which means the demand—is already there. The barrier is the tariff. Take it down.

QUESTION OF EXCLUSION
A PURELY DOMESTIC ISSUE.

The true purpose of the British Empire is the promotion and protection of the welfare of the nations of which it is constituted and which are combined for mutual help. Any rights claimed by any individual citizens or any dominion which conflict with this idea are incompatible with the original purpose of the British Empire.

When the Hindus, upon the Pacific Coast, seek entry upon the ground that it is a right to which they are entitled as British subjects, they seek to set aside the underlying principle that Canada, as a nation within a coalition of nations, has a perfect right to order her own internal affairs as she sees fit, and, should she decide that it is not in the interests of this dominion that an Oriental peasantry should be superimposed upon a distinctively western civilization, such as that of British Columbia, then Canada has the moral right to prevent such a consummation.

Canada for the Canadians and India for the Indians, each exercising whatever discrimination it may choose in the matter of the selection of its immigration. If the laws of the dominion or of the empire do not permit this, then the laws require fixing.

ALBERTA A POSSIBLE
OIL PRODUCER.

Sixteen wells have already been contracted for and not less than twenty holes will be sunk in the Calgary-Ootoks field, according to the Calgary Albertan, which appears to be the paper which gets the news of the oil activity in the south into print these days.

At this rate the development in that district promises to be on a sufficiently comprehensive scale to positively test the possibilities of the Ootoks field. At this date, although the company itself is surrounding its operations with the greatest secrecy, there seems little doubt that the Dingman well has oil which, although not a bonanza, will pay. If such is the case, there seems no reason why other wells sunk in the same vicinity should not do the same, or quite possibly much better. Within the next twelve-month Alberta may be on the map as an oil producer.

WILL GERMANY
MAKE IT UNANIMOUS?

Through that illustrious peace advocate, William Jennings Bryan, United States has already signified its readiness to enter, with Winston Churchill, upon a naval holiday; the two greatest nations on earth prepared to stop for a breathing spell at least this crazy extravagance of armament. In France, a socialist has stepped into the premiership, and the day when France will embrace the idea is in plain sight. Germany alone, among the real factors among the nations, is ruled by a war lord. The question is whether he will retain the supremacy of his warlike idea over his nation's natural penchant for peace, or whether Germany will over-ride the kaiser and make it unanimous by joining the naval holiday.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY

On this date in 1867, the members of the Canadian Convention set up for consideration the vastly important project of the purchase and annexation of "the British possession in North America with all the rights and property of the Hudson's Bay company, or over which it possessed a license of trade." The project was not adopted, but the resolution by the Hon. William McDougall, in which he declared that the future welfare of the Dominion and its territories should be extended westward to the Pacific; that the settlement of the mineral resources, and the extension of trade were to depend upon a suitable form of government and that could be best secured and the welfare of the sparsely populated territories best advanced by the extension of Canadian government and institutions over the whole region. In the discussions of the subject there was much mention of the imperial possibilities of the western country, and those who considered that such possibilities existed were looked upon as visionaries. The project of McDougall of the annexation of the Hudson's Bay company was that Mr. McDougall and Sir George Cartier were despatched to England to take up the matter with the Queen and the home government and the company. In 1869 the deal was completed, and the Canadian part of the company's territories were transferred to the Dominion for a consideration of 300,000 pounds and certain privileges, including the representation by the company of the Hudson's Bay company. The purchase of so vast and rich a territory for so small a sum must rank in history with the largest seizures made by the United States of the huge Mexican island for $24 worth of trinkets. Yet at the time there were people who loudly declared that the Dominion government had permitted itself to be cheated.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Hartford Convention "Traitors" to be Honored as Pure Patriots

It has been well said that the traitors and rebels of one generation often are the patriots and the martyrs of the next. The truth of this statement will be demonstrated in the "Women's Nursing Station" one year hence, December 15, 1913, on the centenary of the opening of the Hartford convention. The convention will be celebrated in the Connecticut capital. The "Women's Nursing Station" will be the name of the convention, although men of the highest standing were bitterly denominated by many others than their contemporaries as traitors, rebels, plotters, traitors, and rebels, and revolutionaries who sought to overthrow democracy and the establishment of a monarchy. In the light of history, the supposed unpatriotic and treasonable character of some of our patriotic fathers, who may have been mistaken in some of their assumptions, but who were undoubtedly autocrats of their country and the spirit of freedom.

From the first the second war between the United States and Great Britain was directed to a military end by the people of New England, who regarded it as unnecessary and unpatriotic, and who had suffered from imminent loss of their destruction. Their families and commerce. They regarded the war as a partisan measure of the democrats, and as federalists they earnestly opposed it. Early in 1813 a committee of correspondence was formed to report in which it was alleged that the constitution of the United States had been violated by the federalists had been followed by the people of New England, who regarded it as unnecessary and unpatriotic, and who had suffered from imminent loss of their destruction. The committee also recommended a convention of the New England states "to determine the question of neutrality and defense" which may be consistent with the preservation of their resources from total ruin, and adapted to their local situation. A quarter of a century when the tower was in process of construction, the name of Elffel was on everybodys' lips.

The tower was built in 1857 and was one of the features of the Paris exposition of 1858. The work was commenced in 1857 and was run into the ground within the limited time. The structure, which rises to the height of 1,000 feet, was built of iron lattice work, and 7,500 tons of steel were used in its construction. The iron lattice work is capped to the top, where the electric lamps are placed on an immense lantern. The tower was a main object of the great government contributing $250,000. So great was the popular interest that the fees for 1859 repaid the outlay and the cost of maintenance for the 20 years gone by him. Many uses have been developed for Elffel Tower. Its importance from a meteorological point of view is great. It has enabled the weather experts to observe the variation of winds, to study the dependence of clouds on the height, and the density of rain that falls at different heights, and the density of the clouds. Since the discovery of the wireless telegraph, the tower has gained a new importance as a wireless station. That the French weather bureau service is the best in the world is due to the facilities afforded by Elffel's monument structure.

Elffel Tower's nearest rival in height is the Washington Monument, New York, which is 516 feet in height. Buenos Ayres, the South American metropolis, will soon have a tower, 1,000 feet high, to supersede Elffel's. The height of the tower, if present plans are carried out, by the architect of the tower, Mr. Leopoldo M. Quirós, will be 1,000 feet. The Quirós Vings of Paris, opened in 1854, the great engineering, first organized a plan for the tower, which was carried out in 1858. The first school of its kind in the world was opened in 1858 in Paris, in the Pennsylvania institution at Philadelphia, was opened in 1852. The Perkins' public institution for the education of the blind in New York, was founded by Dr. S. G. Howe, the institution cost $150,000. Louis in 1862. Diderot, the great engineer, first organized a plan for the tower, which was carried out in 1858. DEMANDING EQUAL TREATMENT FOR BRITISH SUBJECTS

People of Great Britain Aroused by Racial Troubles in Africa.

NATIVES OF EAST INDIA ARE VERY RESTLESS

Attempts Being Made by Authorities to Minimize Dissatisfaction.

London, Dec. 15.—The British and Indian governments are very seriously concerned over recent occurrences in South Africa arising out of what the East Indians consider discriminatory legislation against them. An effort is being made to keep the public in the same of the situation which was recognized by a general strike of thousands of East Indians in Natal and the rest in which several were killed. The Indians in the government have been unable to induce the press of the country to print nothing but favorable news and comments, while a very careful suppression of news regarding the strike and the disturbances in South Africa is made before its appearance in the Indian papers.

Viscount Hardinge, the Indian high commissioner, has been compelled to pour oil on the troubled waters by expressing his sympathies with the East Indians in South Africa and assuring them that investigations are being made into the statements of Mr. J. C. Crewe, secretary of state for India, in reply to a deputation of Indians, who likewise expressed their dissatisfaction.

All this however, has had no much effect on those living in the British Isles. They are thoroughly aroused and are taking equal interest in their fellow subjects in all the British dominions, particularly all of which have adopted or contented themselves to keep the Indians out of their respective countries.

ICE TRUST WILL SELL COMPANIES

People's Ice Company of St. Paul Will Stay Its Dissolution.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 15.—Solidarity companies of the People's Ice Company will be sold by the company in an effort to stay a total dissolution of the corporation, according to attorneys for W. H. Johnson, president, and W. C. Stoeckel, who pleaded guilty yesterday at Hasty Inns to violation of the state anti-trust laws and was fined $2,000 by Judge Albert Johnson, of Red Wing, Minn. Both men were released and paid $15,600 and $16,232 costs.

Antitrust prosecution will be continued against the company by Attorney-general Smith for the state, as he has been unable to find any law in cases where corporations are found guilty of violation of the anti-trust laws.

C.N.R. INAUGURATES NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM

Plan Makes It Impossible for Inspectors to Neglect Air Planes.

The C.N.R. station on First street has received a new lighting system and an automatic alarm, acting a new lighting system which has been installed by the railway. This new system is a cluster of lights extending from one end of the platform to the other, the extreme lights on each end containing a large blue one in the centre; this light has been placed there for the purpose of illuminating the platform for the purpose of safety. The object of the blue lights is that when a train is about to leave the station either for the east or west, the light in the engine end will have to turn on. By the air-brake inspector as soon as he has examined the air-brakes, then the train can leave the station until the time when the air-brake inspector is not allowed to leave while the blue light is left burning. The old system used to be that as soon as the inspector had examined and inspected his train a blue light on the end and in the rush hours it was sometimes omitted, whereas with the new system the light is plain view of everyone.

QUEENS AVE.

A large number called during the reception hours.

There will be a special meeting of the W.T.C.C. on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock sharp at the residence of Mrs. J. Huff, 538 Eighth street.

There will be a repeat read of the will of the late president of the W.T.C.C., held at Brooklyn, N.Y.

All members are invited and visitors will be welcome.

Christmas parties for children seem to be in vogue these days. O. F. Street gave a large one on Friday for her little son and daughter.

Santa Claus was there laden with his usual mysterious gifts.

Mr. L. P. Cherry, Victoria, avenged was also a hostess of a children's dance on Friday evening. Lots of fun, with games and dancing and a jolly supper, was the program.

Mrs. Margaret Blain, Victoria ave., was another little hostess of a children's dance on Friday evening. Lots of fun, with games and dancing and a jolly supper, was the program.

Up-to-date, however, the girls of the club were invited to spend the holidays with their parents, Hon. C. W. and Mrs. Cross.

DANCE.

The usual Cenerentola dance will be held by the Quadrille club at Separation 19th Avenue, Edmonton, on Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Separate school hall.

OVERSEAS WHIST DRIVE.

The overseas whist drive of the season, under the auspices of the Overseas Club will be held in the Sandman block on Wednesday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. The prizes a mixed bag, with worth winning and a concert to which several well-known vocalists will contribute, will be given.

WHIST DRIVE.

That success begets success is amply exemplified by the large and appreciative gathering of whist players who have attended the overseas whist drives held by the club with the result of some what risky enterprise. It, however, appealed so well to a section of the public herefore not attracted to whist that it was decided to carry on the annual ordinary month to six weeks. The season was noteworthy for the number of unknown and inexperienced artists who were successful and is sure to be repeated again next season.

The exceptional value of the prizes offered has been warmly commented upon by all who have participated these past few days. Thursday evening's prize winners are to be congratulated on their good fortune in this respect.

The first prize last Friday night was also the second day's draw won by Mrs. Coulthard, with a score of 118, while the second prize, consisting of a leather set and tray, and tea and ornaments, Miss Bramley, Mrs. Gregson and Miss Cora Bentin, whose scores each totalled 112. Mr. Gregson's girlie "conductor," however, had a hand in the draw in cutting the ticket, and when he handed the box and the east card and securing the prize, a pretty little trinket box, offered as a consolation prize, was secured by Miss Coulthard.

The top score of 120 was compiled by both Mr. and Mrs. Coulthard, so that the two gentlemen abstained from resort to cutting the cards to see who had premier right to the prize for gentlemen, a handsome set of military hair brushes in case, W.

MOVEMENTS OF ROYALTY DURING CHRISTMAS TIME

Queen Mary Will Visit Former President of Canadian Pacific.

MUCH ANNOYANCE BY THE SUFFRAGETTES

Action May Seriously Affect Patronage of London's Chief Theatre.

London, Dec. 15.—The king will not be able to visit to Lord Minton until after Christmas Day this year, but the queen will be there on Sunday for a couple of days.

The court will go to Sandringham on the 22nd to attend the annual fox-hunting meet.

Their maesties were greatly annoyed by suffragette interruptions at the opera on Sunday night. It is probable that one of the incidents will lead to a royal visit to the opera, in order to avoid a repetition of the incident.

The manager of the theatre is making arrangements to have the bill changed to a matinee and the old horse fire engines will soon be on the post in London, the county council having decided to replace them by modern ones at a cost of $100,000 within a period of three years.

The season of opera at Covent Garden ended on Sunday night and Raymon Rose expressed his desire to have another.

He was given a bill of the "Maid of Orleans" and the king will be asked to be present.

The king's patronage always means a full house, and it is to surround the queen with as many near human, than is sometimes seen in people of a wild nature.

They will be asked to be present at the opening of the new bill, a matinee.

It is to be hoped that the queen will be present again next season.

The queen will be the fortunate one, and J. R. Shelds expressed himself well content with the second place and prize of a diamond necklace.

Miss McPhee, in the bill, is the latest addition to the Alpenfels, making a hit with the public.

NAKAMUN FIELDS ARE BUSY AGAIN

Big Standard Derrick Has Resumed Its Search for the Precious Fluid,

NEAR DOOR OF EDMONTON

Asphalt and Coal Also Are To Be Found Within Limits of the Property.

At the Nakamun Asphalt and Oil fields 38 miles west of Edmonton on Thursday last, the big standard derrick which was suspended over the Nakamun River last summer, resumed its pouncing into the bosom of mother earth in a determined effort to find the precious fluid. The previous derrick, H. H. Murray one of the best known oilwell experts on the Pacific Coast, has been engaged by the company to expect to be busy most of the winter. Last September work was delayed owing to the fact that the derrick had been impeded in getting sufficient caustic. At that time 500 feet of 18 inch pipe had been laid and the company had to abandon the pipe and return to the factory for more. The company has since been busy getting the pipe and the derrick going once more and is gradually burying itself in the rich and virginated soil of Alberta.

The company, Nakamun Asphalt and Oil Company have at last been able to get their operations properly set up and are now in full swing. In the oil field, certainly there is no larger derrick in the fact that the company are prepared to go as deep as 1,000 feet. The company is extremely hard and soft soil requires very different methods of working. There are few of these at present in the province because of the great expense involved in importing them from Los Angeles, and they are practically all the western oil outfalls.

The derrick which descends the average oil country landscape is called a "grass-hopper" from its size and shape and is suspended by a cable 100 feet after 500 feet of casing have been run.

Calgary has its "Okie," the north country has its "Athena," and the west has its "Mew." Let us hope that the public of Edmonton have right at the western end of the oilfield, and that the company will be successful in its efforts.

The company has been engaged with the prevailing oilmen from the north, the most notable being the oilmen of the Yukon, the 2600 acres belonging to this company and at present being so thoroughly worked that the oilmen are in the majority of the most sceptical. This great advance in the activities of the company will no doubt bring the results, perhaps the most precious advance, that oil will be found in Alberta, anywhere in the country, and that practically all the western oil outfalls,

oil outfalls,

The derrick which descends the average

Calgary has its "Okie," the north country has its "Athena," and the west has its "Mew."

Let us hope that the public of Edmonton have right at the western end of the oilfield, and that the company will be successful in its efforts.

The company has been engaged with the prevailing oilmen from the north, the most notable being the oilmen of the Yukon,

the 2600 acres belonging to this company and at present being so thoroughly country, and that practically all the western

oil outfalls,
